Survey of Jordan Public Opinion
February 25 - March 1, 2015
Detailed Methodology

• This survey was designed, coordinated and analyzed by the Middle East Marketing and Research Consultants on behalf of the International Republican Institute.

• The national representative survey was carried out from February 25-March 1, 2015. The eligibility criteria was based on age (18 years of age or older). A sample of 1,000 individuals were interviewed face-to-face in their homes.

• The sample design was a multi-stage cluster sample:
  • Stage one: Break country into 100 clusters distributed among Jordan’s 12 governorates based on the 2004 Housing and Population Census.
  • Stage Two: Select 10 households from each cluster in a random fashion based on settlement population while ensuring representation of different parts of the cluster in the sample. The Nyman allocation approach, a sample allocation method used with fixed sample sizes to provide accurate stratified samples, was used to distribute the sample of clusters among governorates.

• Ten households were drawn (with replacement allowing for non-contacts) from each cluster using a random start and a systematic procedure of selection to ensure representation of different parts of the cluster in sample and to reduce intra-class correlation.

• Researchers conducted one in-person interview per household, selected using the Kish method.

• The response rate for the survey was 96 percent.

• The margin of error for the survey does not exceed +/- 3.5 percent with a confidence level of 95 percent and where p=0.50.

• Figures in charts and graphs may not add to 100 percent due to rounding.
