Background

The International Republican Institute (IRI) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, organization dedicated to advancing freedom and democracy worldwide. Since 1983, IRI has worked to develop democratic institutions and ideals, carrying out a variety of international programs to promote freedom, self-government and the rule of law worldwide. IRI provides technical assistance in the areas of political party strengthening, developing civic institutions and open elections, promoting democratic governance and advancing the rule of law.

IRI's Beacon Project seeks to track, analyze, and counter Russian influence and disinformation campaigns in Central and Eastern Europe. A key part of this project is the creation of an ICT tool that will collect data viewed on websites and social media, and aggregate statistics on the most common and most effective media channels and messages being disseminated by Russian or pro-Russian sources.

As the data becomes available, this information will be used to help design public opinion research to test further the penetration and effectiveness of Russian influence and disinformation campaigns, and to develop potential counter-messages to address them. The results of the public opinion research will be presented in Washington, Brussels, and national capitals, and will be used by IRI to help partners craft strategies to counter this growing threat to the entire West.

Evaluation and Award Process

1. IRI may contact any Bidder for clarification or additional information, but Bidders are advised that IRI intends to evaluate the offers based on the written proposals, without discussions, and reserves the right to make decisions based solely on the information provided with the initial proposals. IRI may but is not obligated to conduct additional negotiations with the most highly rated Bidders prior to award of a contract, and may at its sole discretion elect to issue contracts to one or more Bidders.

2. Mathematical errors will be corrected in the following manner: If a discrepancy exists between the total price proposed and the total price resulting from multiplying the unit price by the corresponding amounts, then the unit price will prevail and the total price will be corrected. If there is a discrepancy between the numbers written out in words and the amounts in numbers, then the amount expressed in words will prevail. If the Bidder does not accept the correction, the offer will be rejected.
3. IRI may determine that a proposal is unacceptable if the prices proposed are materially unbalanced between line items or sub-line items. Unbalanced pricing exists when, despite an acceptable total evaluated price, the price of one or more contract line items is significantly overstated or understated as indicated by the application of cost or price analysis techniques. A proposal may be rejected if IRI determines that the lack of balance poses an unacceptable risk.
4. IRI will conduct a source selection based as follows:
IRI intends to make an award to the responsible Bidder based on the following evaluation factors:
 - a) Technical evaluation, (including technical capabilities, proposed technical approach, and personnel qualifications) – 20 percent
 - Experience working with international government and non-governmental clients
 - b) Past performance and experience in performing similar projects – 40 percent
 - Experience and ability to field polls that adhere to international standards and best practices for survey research Experience and ability to ensure polling data integrity and quality
 - Prior experience conducting survey work in the relevant countries listed in the SOW.
 - Ability to complete fieldwork and data-processing in a timely manner.
 - c) Compliance with security and other administrative requirements – 0 percent
 - d) Other factors – 10 percent
 - Offeror does not demonstrate political bias through public statements (including social media) or business practices
 - e) Price – 30 percent

IRI intends to evaluate Bidders' proposals in accordance with these factors and make an award to the responsible Bidder whose proposal is most advantageous to the program.

5. If a cost realism analysis is performed, cost realism may be considered in evaluating performance or price.
