Background:
The International Republican Institute (IRI) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, organization dedicated to advancing freedom and democracy worldwide. Since 1983, IRI has worked to develop democratic institutions and ideals, carrying out a variety of international programs to promote freedom, self-government and the rule of law worldwide. IRI provides technical assistance in the areas of political party strengthening, developing civic institutions and open elections, promoting democratic governance and advancing the rule of law.

IRI’s DRL-funded programming equips youth beneficiaries with the knowledge and tools to use storytelling to craft positive narratives that promote tolerance and inclusivity. The stories crafted by participants in IRI’s storytelling activities will amplify positive interactions with people different from themselves, as well as seeks to reframe assumptions or stereotypes of marginalized communities in Burma. Participants will be coached by experienced storytellers on how to maximize the impact of their stories and will be encouraged to share their stories within their communities.

Period of Performance:
Date of signature-March 31, 2021.

Statement of Work:
To highlight the voices of marginalized communities and produce positive narratives that counter negative sentiments of intolerance among young people in Burma, IRI’s program beneficiaries will receive training in storytelling techniques to craft their own stories, highlighting positive experiences of interacting with individuals different from themselves.

Storytelling Trainings
Deliver trainings on storytelling techniques focusing on highlighting the voice of marginalized groups for approximately ten IRI program beneficiaries per training. Trainings will take place virtually and/or in person, based on prior discussions between IRI and the contractor. The contractor will charge time for program development, facilitation and follow-up for the following seven modules:
Workbook and Handouts
Create and distribute homework handouts tailored to training topics for participants to complete following virtual training sessions. These handouts will combine to complete a larger workbook related to storytelling and political inclusion and will be completed following the conclusion of each training. Each training session will begin each workshop with a review of the previous weeks’ handout.

Advice and Mentorship
Advise and mentor program beneficiaries throughout their storytelling projects development as needed and based on the consultant’s availability. These sessions will be completed via an IRI-approved telecommunications platform, such as Zoom or Skype, amongst others. The Contractor will discuss a range of topics on storytelling, inclusivity and political participation with participants as needed.

Provide information and text as needed for IRI's internal and donor reports as it relates to storytelling workshops.

All bids submitted to IRI must include:

If it is more feasible for the contractor to use his/her own vehicle for travel to an IRI event, IRI will reimburse the cost of the transportation to the contractor based upon the prescribed formulas used by the funder of the event, calculated according to the kilometers traveled and the type of vehicle used. The daily and hourly rates submitted should, therefore, not include an assumption of costs incurred by the contractor for travel related expenses. IRI may contact any Bidder for clarification or additional information, but Bidders are advised that IRI intends to evaluate the offers based on the written bids and reserves the right to make decisions based solely on the information provided with the initial bids. IRI may but is not obligated to conduct additional negotiations with the most highly rated Bidders prior to award of a contract, and may at its sole discretion elect to issue contracts to one or more Bidders.

2. Mathematical errors will be corrected in the following manner: If a discrepancy exists between the total price proposed and the total price resulting from multiplying the unit price by the corresponding amounts, then the unit price will prevail and the total price will be corrected. If there were a discrepancy between the numbers written out in words and the amounts in numbers, then the amount expressed in words will prevail. If the Bidder does not accept the correction, the offer will be rejected.

3. IRI may determine that a bid is unacceptable if the prices proposed are materially unbalanced between line items or sub-line items. Unbalanced pricing exists when, despite an acceptable total evaluated price, the price of one or more contract line items is significantly overstated or understated as indicated by the application of cost or price analysis techniques. A bid may be rejected if IRI determines that the lack of balance poses an unacceptable risk.

4. IRI will conduct a source selection based as follows:

   c) Price – 20 percent

IRI intends to evaluate Offerors’ proposals in accordance with these factors and make an award to the responsible Offeror whose proposal is most advantageous to the program.
