Background

The International Republican Institute (IRI) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, organization dedicated to advancing freedom and democracy worldwide. Since 1983, IRI has worked to develop democratic institutions and ideals, carrying out a variety of international programs to promote freedom, self-government and the rule of law worldwide. IRI provides technical assistance in the areas of political party strengthening, developing civic institutions and open elections, promoting democratic governance and advancing the rule of law.

The IRI Southern Africa (IRI-SA) office is working to strengthen political parties in the region. IRI-SA is working with selected political parties to formulate effective policy solutions that are responsive to citizen needs in Angola, Mozambique, South Africa, and Zambia. IRI-SA consulted with political parties represented in the legislatures in each country to assess key issues facing their countries and identify internal challenges that hinder their ability to develop issue-based policies. Based on those engagements, IRI-SA has identified key topics to strengthen political parties' abilities to conduct research and develop issue-based policies.

Unbalanced pricing exists when, despite an acceptable total evaluated price, the price of one or more contract line items is significantly overstated or understated as indicated by the application of cost or price analysis techniques. A proposal may be rejected if IRI determines that the lack of balance poses an unacceptable risk.
