Background

The International Republican Institute (IRI) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, organization dedicated to advancing freedom and democracy worldwide. Since 1983, IRI has worked to develop democratic institutions and ideals, carrying out a variety of international programs to promote freedom, self-government and the rule of law worldwide. IRI provides technical assistance in the areas of political party strengthening, developing civic institutions and open elections, promoting democratic governance and advancing the rule of law.

Over the last decade, Bangladesh has experienced a rise in social, religious and extremist violence. Informed by IRI's survey and focus group research, IRI aims to counter this trend with an online messaging program. IRI will contract with an ad agency to conduct this digital advertising campaign on Facebook. Contracting with an ad agency will directly benefit IRI Bangladesh's USAID program objective, which is that "counter messaging campaigns are more tailored to the characteristics of vulnerable communities."

Period of Performance

Statement of Work

IRI will conduct a large-scale digital advertising campaign on Facebook to promote tolerance and peace. This program will include a mix of static and video advertisements that will be informed by IRI's survey and focus group research. IRI seeks a local partner to help develop advertising copy and visual content for the advertisements, and to implement the messaging campaign on Facebook. The contractor will be expected to closely consult with IRI on developing content and strategies for distribution and dissemination. IRI will reserve the right to review and approve all content created before it is disseminated.

The specifics of the messaging campaign, including the number of messages, their content, and the required reach and impressions, will be determined after finalizing the contract.

Specific services the local partner is expected to deliver will include:

- Directly implement the advertising campaign in coordination with IRI and its partners. This implementation will require random assignment of audience members to receive one of several advertisement variants.
- In collaboration with IRI's evaluation partners, collect monitoring and outcome data on the advertising campaign. Data may include, but are not limited to, impressions, interactions (likes, shares, comments, etc.), click-throughs, online surveys, and interaction with any destination resources such as a website.
- Develop and maintain a webpage of resources on tolerance and peace throughout the course of the contract, for the purposes of measuring audience behavior on the destination page, if determined to be needed by IRI at the start of the contract.
- Complete a final, 5-page report upon conclusion of project including, but not limited to, descriptive statistics for each of metrics identified above, for each variant of the advertisements, data visualizations, success stories and lessons learned.

Evaluation and Award Process

1. IRI may contact any Bidder for clarification or additional information, but Bidders are advised that IRI intends to evaluate the offers based on the written proposals, without discussions, and reserves the right to make decisions based solely on the information provided with the initial proposals. IRI may but is not obligated to conduct additional negotiations with the most highly rated Bidders prior to award of a contract, and may at its sole discretion elect to issue contracts to one or more Bidders.

2. Mathematical errors will be corrected in the following manner: If a discrepancy exists between the total price proposed and the total price resulting from multiplying the unit price by the corresponding amounts, then the unit price will prevail and the total price will be corrected. If there is a discrepancy between the numbers written out in words and the amounts in numbers, then the amount expressed in words will prevail. If the Bidder does not accept the correction, the offer will be rejected.
3. IRI may determine that a proposal is unacceptable if the prices proposed are materially unbalanced between line items or sub-line items. Unbalanced pricing exists when, despite an acceptable total evaluated price, the price of one or more contract line items is significantly overstated or understated as indicated by the application of cost or price analysis techniques. A proposal may be rejected if IRI determines that the lack of balance poses an unacceptable risk.
4. IRI will conduct a source selection based as follows:

Best Value

IRI intends to make an award to the responsible Bidder based on the following evaluation factors:

- a) Technical evaluation, (including technical capabilities, proposed technical approach, and personnel qualifications) – 40 percent
- b) Previous experience in performing similar projects and conducting large-scale digital advertising campaigns– 35 percent
- e) Price – 25 percent

IRI intends to evaluate Bidders' proposals in accordance with these factors and make an award to the responsible Bidder whose proposal is most advantageous to the program.

5. If a cost realism analysis is performed, cost realism may be considered in evaluating performance or price.
