Background:
The International Republican Institute (IRI) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, organization dedicated to advancing freedom and democracy worldwide. Since 1983, IRI has worked to develop democratic institutions and ideals, carrying out a variety of international programs to promote freedom, self-government and the rule of law worldwide. IRI provides technical assistance in the areas of political party strengthening, developing civic institutions and open elections, promoting democratic governance and advancing the rule of law.

The International Republican Institute’s (IRI) Center for Global Impact will host a 2-day regional event on countering foreign authoritarian influence (CFAI) in Latin America. The workshop will be held in-person in Buenos Aires, Argentina, on June 21st and 22nd, 2022. The workshop will emphasize the impact of malign authoritarian influence in the Southern Cone, with a strong focus on Chile and Argentina. Chile has a longstanding relationship with China, serving the first country in Latin America to establish diplomatic relations with the country. In Argentina, China is more visible than ever, while Russia is seeking influence through two fronts; first it seeks to exploit Argentina’s desire for diversity in political, economic, and security relationships; second it uses periods of domestic flux to advance its narratives and erode the consensus for the liberal world order.

To this end, IRI will bring together a cohort of stakeholders working on varied elements of foreign authoritarian influence, with a focus on authoritarian influence in the media space. Participants will include senior party officials, parliamentarians, journalists, researchers, and civil society activists, in order to breakdown silos in expertise in building democratic resilience.

Period of Performance: June 21st and June 22nd.

Scope of Work
IRI will convene approximately 30-40 stakeholders for an interactive event at a hotel in Buenos Aires. The event will focus on authoritarian influence in the Southern cone, and guests will include civil society organizations and policymakers. The event will feature speakers, panel sessions, trainings, and group discussions that will take place in both
