Background

The International Republican Institute (IRI) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, organization dedicated to advancing freedom and democracy worldwide. Since 1983, IRI has worked to develop democratic institutions and ideals, carrying out a variety of international programs to promote freedom, self-government and the rule of law worldwide. IRI provides technical assistance in the areas of political party strengthening, developing civic institutions and open elections, promoting democratic governance and advancing the rule of law.

The International Republican Institute (IRI) will partner with an external researcher or research firm in Fiji or the Pacific Islands region to conduct a series of Focus Group Discussions (FGDs) with a project budget ceiling of USD $27,000. The purpose of the FGDs is to explore two key themes: specifically, how the voter registration changes impacted targeted communities; and generally, how government and civil society can ensure that women and LGBTQI+ people are adequately consulted on future legal and regulatory changes that affect their ability to participate in political processes. The FGDs will be implemented in coordination with IRI.

Period of Performance

12/01/2022 - 3/31/2023

Statement of Work

QUALITATIVE RESEARCH IN Fiji

Focus Groups on Voter Registration and Political Participation

OBJECTIVES OF THE RESEARCH

IRI needs to:

- 1. Understand what are the general barriers that women and LGBTQI+ people might experience and what motivates them to vote.
- 2. Understand how the recent voter registration changes impacted target communities. The focus groups will explore how the targeted communities received and understood the processes the Fijian Elections Office (FEO) laid out for voter registration; their ability to respond and upgrade their voter registration; and whether voter registration changes impacted turnout of targeted communities. This is with Electoral (Registration of Voters) Amendment No. 2 Act 2021 which was passed on September 22, 2021, that voter names to be what appears on their birth certificate.
- 3. Understand how government and civil society can ensure that women and LGBTQI+ people are adequately consulted on future legal and regulatory changes that affect their ability to participate in political processes. The focus group discussions will explore perceptions of the major barriers to women and LGBTQI+ people's political participation; communication platforms where these communities are most likely to engage with these issues; how CSOs can most effectively engage these communities on structural barriers to participation; and sentiment about the adequacy of government consultation on major policy changes affecting women and LGBTQI+ people.

METHODOLOGY

The questions above are best addressed by a focus group study. Six groups, each lasting approximately 90-120 minutes should take place.

Group	Location	Gender	Age	LGBTQI+ ?	Urban/Rural	Affected by voter registration changes?
1	Suva	Women	18+	Not specified	Mixed	A balance of people 1) affected by changes and did re-register, 2) people affected by changes and did not re-register, and 3) people not affected by changes
2	Suva	Half men, half women		Yes
3	Sigatoka	Women		Not specified
4	Sigatoka	Half men, half women		Yes
5	Nadi or Lautoka	Women		Not specified
6	Nadi or Lautoka	Half men,		Yes

		half women

Recruitment Criteria for Impact from Voter Registration Change:

1. Affected by changes and did re-register: This includes people who were affected by the voter registration change amendment and went through the process to register to vote again.
2. People affected by changes and did not re-register: This includes people who were affected by the voter registration change amendment, but did not go through the process to re-register to vote. This category should include BOTH people who tried to re-register but were not able to complete the process, and people who did not try to re-register.
3. People not affected by changes: This includes people who are a member of a potentially impacted group (women and LGBTQI+ people) but were not personally impacted.

Additional requirements:

- Participants in the same focus group session may not know one another.
- No participants may have participated in a focus group study in the past 12 months.
- For the groups that convene in Nadi or Lautoka, the vendor will suggest the location. IRI requires that participants are drawn from both communities.

GENERAL RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE OFFEROR

Offeror will be responsible for managing all logistical aspects of the project above and should engage local support staff as necessary to complete the following:

- Screener. IRI will provide a draft screening questionnaire based on the specifications above. The Offeror will review and offer edits within three working days of receipt. If the bidder finds it necessary, they will translate the screener into one or more non-English languages. These translations will be listed in the proposal. IRI reserves the right to review any translations prior to recruitment launch.
- Recruiting participants. Offeror will recruit all participants according to the screening criteria listed above. At least one week prior to the start of the first focus group session, the Offeror will provide a brief description of the composition of the groups in terms of age, gender, occupation, etc. Offeror should recruit 6-8 participants for each in person group as well as 2-3 alternates in case any of the original participants are unable to participate. All participants will be required to give written informed consent to participate in this study. IRI will provide draft informed consent language which may be adjusted by the bidder in order to conform to any specific legal requirements in the research country.

They should familiarize themselves with the topic of discussion prior to fieldwork. If bidder determines that discussion guide translation into a language other than English is necessary, bidder will also provide moderator(s) who can conduct focus groups in this language. In this instance,

Bidder will determine with IRI the language that will be used for each of the six focus group discussions

- Observation. The Offeror will provide an opportunity for IRI staff to observe the focus group discussions.
- Recording of focus group discussions. Audio and/or video record all aspects of research necessary for full and accurate data collection, transcript generation and inclusion of illustrative samples in the final analytical report. Offeror will film focus groups and film should be high quality with clear sound. If participants do not consent to videotaping, audio recordings are acceptable.
- Written summary of focus group discussions. Offeror will provide a 2-3 page written summary of the focus group discussions (one single summary for all) in idiomatic English within one week after the final focus group session.
- Written analytical report. Offeror will analyze all discussions, and write and edit final analytic report for review, editing and acceptance by IRI. IRI will provide a report template. The report is expected to synthesize findings across all participants and all discussion sessions, while noting any major differences of opinions between participants and sessions. The report must present actual analysis (i.e. not mere description) and illustrative quotes from participants. The report must be in idiomatic English, and include a one or two page executive summary, addressing the research needs outlined above. The length is approximately 15-20 pages.

1. IRI may but is not obligated to conduct additional negotiations with the most highly rated Bidders prior to award of a contract, and may at its sole discretion elect to issue contracts to one or more Bidders.
2. Mathematical errors will be corrected in the following manner: If a discrepancy exists between the total price proposed and the total price resulting from multiplying the unit price by the corresponding amounts, then the unit price will prevail and the total price will be corrected. If there is a discrepancy between the numbers written out in words and the amounts in numbers, then the amount expressed in words will prevail. If the Bidder does not accept the correction, the offer will be rejected.
3. IRI may determine that a proposal is unacceptable if the prices proposed are materially unbalanced between line items or sub-line items. Unbalanced pricing exists when, despite an acceptable total evaluated price, the price of one or more contract line items is significantly overstated or understated as indicated by the application of cost or price analysis techniques. A proposal may be rejected if IRI determines that the lack of balance poses an unacceptable risk.
4. IRI will conduct a source selection based as follows:
IRI intends to make an award to the responsible Bidder based on the following evaluation factors:
