Background

The International Republican Institute (IRI) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, organization dedicated to advancing freedom and democracy worldwide. Since 1983, IRI has worked to develop democratic institutions and ideals, carrying out a variety of international programs to promote freedom, self-government, and the rule of law worldwide. IRI provides technical assistance in the areas of political party strengthening, developing civic institutions and open elections, promoting democratic governance, and advancing the rule of law.

IRI's Advancing Women Political Leadership (AWPL) project aims to support Colombia, Ecuador, and Bolivia in strengthening their congressional organizing bodies, institutionalizing inclusive political participation among female legislators and addressing the needs of women in policymaking process. As such, IRI will host an event in Mexico City at the end of June, bringing together legislators from Colombia, Ecuador, Bolivia and Mexico for a Gender-Based Violence Exchange. This event will provide a platform for sharing best practices, building professional relationships and drawing up on expertise of legislative peers from Mexico, given its leadership in addressing issues related to gender-based violence. As part of the GBV exchange in Mexico City, IRI aims to develop a comparative report on the legal frameworks pertaining to GBV, including political violence against women in Bolivia, Colombia, Ecuador and Mexico. This report will enable IRI to gain a better understanding of the situation in each country and identify best practices and areas for improvement. The insights data generated from the Comparative report will be pivotal in enabling IRI to design effective interventions and programs to effectively address gender-based violence and promote women's political leadership and empowerment in those regions.

Evaluation and Award Process

1. IRI may contact any Bidder for clarification or additional information, but Bidders are advised that IRI intends to evaluate the offers based on the written proposals, without discussions, and reserves the right to make decisions based solely on the information provided with the initial proposals. IRI may but is not obligated to conduct additional negotiations with the most highly rated Bidders prior to award of a contract and may at its sole discretion elect to issue contracts to one or more Bidders.
2. Mathematical errors will be corrected in the following manner: If a discrepancy exists between the total price proposed and the total price resulting from multiplying the unit price by the corresponding amounts, then the unit price will prevail and the total price will be corrected. If there is a discrepancy between the numbers written out in words and the amounts in numbers, then the amount expressed in words will prevail. If the Bidder does not accept the correction, the offer will be rejected.
3. IRI may determine that a proposal is unacceptable if the prices proposed are materially unbalanced between line items or sub-line items. Unbalanced pricing exists when, despite an acceptable total evaluated price, the price of one or more contract line items is significantly overstated or understated as indicated by the application of cost or price analysis techniques. A proposal may be rejected if IRI determines that the lack of balance poses an unacceptable risk.
4. IRI will conduct a source selection based as follows:

IRI intends to make an award to the responsible Bidder based on the following evaluation factors:

Technical evaluation, (including technical capabilities, proposed technical approach, and personnel qualifications)	40
Experience with legal and policy frameworks related to gender-based violence	30
Experience with gender-based violence policy in Bolivia, Colombia, Ecuador and/or Mexico	10
Past performance and experience in performing similar projects	35
Track record of relevant based on individuals CV past work experience and certifications	35
Price	25
Total	100

IRI intends to evaluate Bidders' proposals in accordance with these factors and make an award to the responsible Bidder whose proposal is most advantageous to the program.

5. If a cost realism analysis is performed, cost realism may be considered in evaluating performance or price.
