Background

The International Republican Institute (IRI) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, organization dedicated to advancing freedom and democracy worldwide. Since 1983, IRI has worked to develop democratic institutions and ideals, carrying out a variety of international programs to promote freedom, self-government and the rule of law worldwide. IRI provides technical assistance in the areas of political party strengthening, developing civic institutions and open elections, promoting democratic governance and advancing the rule of law.

IRI-Mongolia is seeking to contract a polling company to conduct and analyze national polls in Mongolia. The results of the survey may measure citizen perception of government performance, democracy and social, political, religious, cultural, and economic issues.

Period of Performance

January 1, 2024 – December 31, 2024, with the options to extend up to five years.

Eligibility criteria:

- Mongolian language skills
- Licensed to conduct public opinion research in Mongolia
- Bidder complies with any laws governing human subjects research that apply to face-to-face and phone polling in Mongolia, including data privacy laws

Statement of Work

OBJECTIVES OF THE RESEARCH

Public opinion data shall be obtained through a nationally representative survey of Mongolia that is designed to obtain the most accurate possible information about (but not limited to): (a) religion and religious freedom, (b) commitment to democracy, and (c) freedom of association and expression, etc.

IRI is open to data collection for this survey to be conducted either through face-to-face interviews (PAPI/CAPI) or through phone interviews (CATI). IRI would like the option to conduct additional polls in future years and may select either mode.

RESEARCH TASKS

(1) General Responsibilities of Bidder. For each survey, the bidder shall be responsible for the project design and execution, including the following specific tasks:

- (a) translation, formatting, pretesting, adaptation, and printing of questionnaires (PAPI) or programming of questionnaires (CAPI/CATI);
- (b) development of a Sampling Plan, to be based on a multistage stratified plan (CAPI/PAPI) or a CATI sampling methodology; list and explain any geographic or other exclusions; the proposed Sampling Plan will be reviewed by and any further changes agreed upon by IRI and Bidder will be incorporated
- (c) training supervisors and interviewers;
- (d) arranging and supervising all aspects of fieldwork, including back-checks;
- (e) entering (only if PAPI) and processing the survey data, including data cleaning and encoding survey responses;
- (f) ascertaining the representativeness of the sample and weighting the data, if necessary;
- (g) Statistical analysis of findings and producing the deliverables specified below.

From project design to execution, the bidder must comply with any laws governing human subjects research that apply to face-to-face and phone polling in Mongolia, including data privacy laws.

(2) Questionnaire. For each survey, IRI will provide a draft questionnaire and the bidder will provide input, such as a need for rephrasing certain terms for local context.

IRI requests translation into Mongolian. Translations will be reviewed and approved by IRI.

For PAPI, full versions should be printed and interviewers should be allowed to code the questionnaire in the interview language. For CAPI/CATI at least the main interview language must be programmed—only programming in English (unless English is the main interview language) is not sufficient. For PAPI/CAPI, the questionnaire may call for showcards, which need to be printed in all translated languages. For PAPI/CAPI, the estimated average interview duration is 30 minutes, and for CATI the estimated average interview duration is 15 minutes.

3) Sample Design. For each survey, IRI requires a national sample of 1,500, 2,000, or 2,500 adults, age 18 or older, that is representative of the population of the survey universe. Planned exclusions of the population of the survey universe (e.g. geographic, linguistic, without access to phones etc.) must be discussed during quotation stage.

For PAPI/CAPI, the sample shall be drawn using recognized probability methods, all the way down to the selection of the individual respondent at the household level. In the event that any departure from probability sampling methods is recommended by the bidder for all or any part of the survey, the sampling methodologies to be employed shall be described in detail and a rationale for their use shall be provided. IRI's general preferred sampling approach is:

1. Stage 1: Proportional Stratification by administrative units as per census (e.g. province, district etc.)
2. Stage 2: Proportional Stratification by urban/rural status (if census data exists)
3. Stage 3: Random selection of Sampling Point (no more than 10 interviews per Sampling Point) within each Stage 2 stratum
4. Stage 4: Random route household selection within each Sampling Point. Starting point within Sampling Point ideally randomly determined by satellite map or GPS coordinates.
5. Stage 5: Random selection of respondent within each selected household by KISH grid or last/next birthday method.

Sample Sampling Plan for n=1000 with 10 interviews per Sampling Point (SP)

Proportional Stratification for Stages 1 and 2	STAGE 1		STAGE 2
	% of country's 18+ population	# of SPs in district	% of population of district urban	% of population of district rural	# of urban SPs in district	# of rural SPs in district
District A	24%	24	100%	0%	24	0
District B	18%	18	35%	65%	6	12
District C	7%	7	15%	85%	1	6
District D	20%	20	25%	75%	5	15
District E	24%	24	75%	25%	18	6
District F	7%	7	40%	60%	3	4

A detailed sampling plan (template provided by IRI) shall be submitted to the IRI prior to fieldwork, including a description of the survey coverage, allocation of the sample, description of the sampling frame, description of any stratification criteria to be used, description of the stages of selection and the selections methods to be used at each stage, a definition of the Sampling Points and approximate number of interviews to be conducted within each Sampling Point, the method to be used for selection of the respondent at the household level, an explanation for any divergence from use of the KISH grid for respondent selection, and call-back rules to be employed. It is assumed that the sample will be distributed in proportion to the population of each region or other geographic unit to be surveyed; in the event that the bidder wishes to propose a sample design departing from this principle the proposal should describe the allocation to be used and the reasons for doing so.

For CATI, the sample shall be drawn using recognized probability methods, all the way down to the selection of the individual respondent. In the event that any departure from probability sampling methods is recommended by the bidder for all or any part of the survey, the sampling methodologies to be employed shall be described in detail and a rationale for their use shall be provided.

IRI's preferred approach to CATI sampling list-based, provided that recent sampling frame data exists in form of listings of all phone numbers (landline and mobile, incl. of all major mobile phone service providers.) Alternatively, IRI accepts an RDD approach, ideally with some stratification, e.g. by area code.

A detailed sampling methodology shall be submitted to the IRI prior to fieldwork, including a description of the survey coverage, allocation of the sample, description of the sampling frame, description of any stratification criteria to be used, description of the stages of selection and the selections methods to be used at each stage, the method to be used for selection of the respondent in case of shared phone numbers, and call-back rules to be employed. It is assumed that the sample will be distributed in proportion to the population of each region or other geographic unit to be surveyed; in the event that the bidder wishes to propose a sample design departing from this principle the proposal should describe the allocation to be used and the reasons for doing so.

(4) Pre-test. For each survey, the questionnaire shall be pre-tested by the bidder prior to the commencement of any fieldwork. No less than 20 pre-test interviews shall be conducted and in surveys with translations into multiple language, no less than 10 interviews per language. The bidder shall provide IRI with a written report of the results of the pre-test, along with details of any problems encountered and suggested remedies, prior to the commencement of any fieldwork.

(5) Fieldwork. Interviews shall be conducted by experienced field workers who shall be thoroughly briefed by the bidder prior to commencement of any fieldwork. IRI may send a representative to observe training and/or listen to some interviews. The bidder shall ensure that interviewers are thoroughly familiar with respondent selection procedures, call back procedures, and the structure of the questionnaire. Interviewer training shall include practice sessions in administering the questionnaire. All interviewers must have at least completed secondary education and must be fully fluent (reading and speaking) in the language(s) in which they are to administer the interviews. No interviewer shall conduct more than 10% of the total interviews, but a 5% upper limit would be preferable. A minimum of 10% of interviews shall be back checked or live listen in by a team supervisor.

For PAPI/CAPI, the interviews shall be face-to-face and they shall be conducted in the home of the respondent. IRI prefers questionnaire administration via CAPI but is open to paper-and-pencil questionnaire administration if CAPI use is not feasible or advisable. For CATI, the interviews will be conducted on the phone.

Household and respondent selection must be tracked on a contact tracking sheet or similar—this will be needed to calculate the response rate. Informed consent (oral is acceptable unless country laws require written) must be sought prior to commencing the interview. IRI will provide draft informed consent language to the bidder and this template may be updated by the bidder to conform with the country's legal requirements.

(6) Data Processing. For each survey, the bidder shall be responsible for data entry with a 10% double-punch standard (if PAPI), cleaning, and processing, including development and implementation of a coding scheme for all open-ended questions. The bidder shall supply data to IRI as a clean, fully labeled in English SPSS “*.sav” file with a complete data dictionary of variable names and value labels. String is only allowable for open-ended responses without precodes; note that the top 10 responses will need to be coded for such cases. There shall be one data record for each respondent and records shall be of fixed length. Each record shall include a unique respondent ID number, interviewer ID number, interview duration, Sampling Point ID number for PAPI/CAPI, any geographic units as per the sample design, landline versus mobile phone for CATI, interview start and end times, date of interview, GPS coordinates if using CAPI devices capable of capturing this data, and interview language if there is more than one. All date and time variables should be in an SPSS-compatible DateTime format. IRI prefers the duration variable to be a net duration that filters out any time spent outside of the interview if it was interrupted after it began. If possible, a variable should also be included that indicates whether each interview was interrupted or rescheduled after it was started. Each record shall include demographic information about the respondent, including gender, exact age, and education level.

The bidder shall be responsible for deriving and applying any post-stratification weights required to bring the sample into conformity with the demographic profile of the population at the very least for gender and age groups, as well as any additional weighting factors required to correct for disproportionate allocation, if used. Ideally, IRI would want education groups included in weights, and if available demographic data allows it, those without formal education will be assigned to a separate code from those with at least some primary education. If demographic weights were to fall below 0.3 or above 3.0, this must be discussed in writing with IRI before the weight is applied. IRI has strict upper limits on post-weighting and requires unweighted samples already generally matching the population's rough gender and age distribution. For example, an unweighted sample of 65% male and 35% female would not be accepted, even if corrected with post-weights.

(7) Technical Report. When delivering data for each survey, the bidder shall provide a Technical Report (template provided by IRI) which shall include the following:

- (a) PAPI/CAPI: A complete Sampling Plan, including list of PSUs and individual sampling points and number of interviews conducted at each sampling point. CATI: A complete sampling methodology.
- (b) Details of response rates, including tabulation of unsuccessful interview attempts, with reasons for non-response (i.e. respondent refusal, proxy refusal, inability to locate selected respondent, etc.).
- (c) A brief report on survey operations including any practical difficulties encountered in carrying out the survey. Fieldwork photos (not showing any respondent faces) would be highly appreciated as well;
- (d) Estimated sampling error;
- (e) A complete explanation of the weighting scheme including details of how weighting factors were developed and applied, as well as the demographic data on which weights were based (i.e., age, gender, and education distributions in the population);
- (f) any abnormalities encountered during data QC, including but not limited to: suspicious patterns by interviewer ID (e.g. usually fast completion rates), for CAPI GPS coordinates not matching the selected sampling point, potential contradictions (e.g. respondents who rate a certain politician as highly untrustworthy yet definitely plan on voting for this person), significant data changes of indicators since the previous poll etc.

(8) Analytical Report. For each survey, the bidder will provide an analytical report of 3-5 pages highlighting key findings from the data and placing these findings within the local context. Mere description of data is not sufficient; the report must contain analysis.

(9) Summary of deliverables. The Deliverables to be provided to IRI by the bidder for each survey are as follows:

- (a) Sampling Methodology
- (b) Pretest report
- (c) Copies of the final questionnaire, as fielded, in English and translations
- (d) A complete data set formatted as SPSS file
- (e) A technical report
- (f) An analytical report

(10) Delivery Schedule. Bidder will advise IRI on a feasible timeline for completing work on this project as soon as possible. All deliverables should be provided by May 2024. IRI's preferred project timeline is as follows. If the bidder has another suggested timeline, please list it in the proposal. Note any differences between a timeline for CAPI/PAPI and CATI:

Translated questionnaire	Due 3-5 days after receipt of English questionnaire
Pre-test	Starts within 5 days of IRI's approval of sampling plan or translated questionnaire, whichever is later. Pre-test report is due 1 day after end of pre-test

Evaluation and Award Process

1. IRI may contact any Bidder for clarification or additional information, but Bidders are advised that IRI intends to evaluate the offers based on the written proposals, without discussions, and reserves the right to make decisions based solely on the information provided with the initial proposals. IRI may but is not obligated to conduct additional negotiations with the most highly rated Bidders prior to award of a contract, and may at its sole discretion elect to issue contracts to one or more Bidders.
2. Mathematical errors will be corrected in the following manner: If a discrepancy exists between the total price proposed and the total price resulting from multiplying the unit price by the corresponding amounts, then the unit price will prevail and the total price will be corrected. If there is a discrepancy between the numbers written out in words and the amounts in numbers, then the amount expressed in words will prevail. If the Bidder does not accept the correction, the offer will be rejected.
3. IRI may determine that a proposal is unacceptable if the prices proposed are materially unbalanced between line items or sub-line items. Unbalanced pricing exists when, despite an acceptable total evaluated price, the price of one or more contract line items is significantly overstated or understated as indicated by the application of cost or price analysis techniques. A proposal may be rejected if IRI determines that the lack of balance poses an unacceptable risk.
4. IRI will conduct a source selection based as follows:

- a) Technical evaluation, (including technical capabilities, proposed technical approach, and personnel qualifications) – 50 percent
 - Sampling methodology-20 percent
 - Capacity to perform scope of work-30 percent
- b) Past performance and experience in performing similar projects – 30 percent
 - Experience conducting face-to-face and telephone polling in Mongolia-30 percent
- c) Price – 20 percent

IRI intends to evaluate Bidders' proposals in accordance with these factors and make an award to the responsible Bidder whose proposal is most advantageous to the program.

- 5. If a cost realism analysis is performed, cost realism may be considered in evaluating performance or price.
