Background

The International Republican Institute (IRI) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, organization dedicated to advancing freedom and democracy worldwide. Since 1983, IRI has worked to develop democratic institutions and ideals, carrying out a variety of international programs to promote freedom, self-government and the rule of law worldwide. IRI provides technical assistance in the areas of political party strengthening, developing civic institutions and open elections, promoting democratic governance and advancing the rule of law.

IRI seeks to conduct a national survey of youth aged 10-35 in Q3 of FY2024.

The Ukraine National Identity Through Youth (UNITY) program seeks to leverage youth-centered passion, involvement, and perspectives – over a 5-year period – to design programming aimed at fostering a connected, tolerant, empowered and cohesive national identity in Ukraine moving forward. Through collaborative educational programs, partnerships with public and private institutions and engagement with leadership across Ukraine’s youth population segments, UNITY will impact 1 million youth members across Ukraine. In partnership with domestic and international implementing partners, IRI will continue to manage activities according to stated commitments and approved objectives. As a result, IRI’s activities will equip youth with the civic values, knowledge and skills necessary to increase their agency in public decision-making processes and leverage contemporary data to inform public and private stakeholders.

Period of Performance

March 2024 – September 30, 2024; with option to extend for one-year through September 30, 2025
STATEMENT OF WORK
Children and Youth Ukraine Survey

OBJECTIVES OF THE RESEARCH
Public opinion data shall be obtained through a CATI survey of Ukraine that is designed to obtain the most accurate possible information about: (a) perspectives of children and youth on the direction of their local and national governments, (b) views of children and youth on civic engagement, (c) perspectives of children and youth on the challenges and barriers they face both in their local community and at the national level in Ukraine, (d) areas for increased civic education among children and youth, (e) experiences related to internal displacement (for those affected), (f) access to and experience with communication technology, (g) education and leisure activities, (h) views on volunteerism, and (i) youth perception of corruption in Ukraine.

RESEARCH TASKS
(1) General Responsibilities of Bidder. The bidder shall be responsible for the project design and execution, including the following specific tasks:
   (a) translation, formatting, pretesting, adaptation, and programming of questionnaires.
   (b) development of a sampling methodology; list and explain any geographic or other exclusions; the proposed Sampling Plan will be reviewed by, and any further changes agreed upon by IRI and Bidder will be incorporated. The bidder will use a random digit telephone dialing and ask adult respondents if they have younger children in the house who are the target age and request their explicit consent to survey the children.
   (c) in line with international best practices for research with child subjects as well as meeting all legal requirements in Ukraine, the bidder will work with experts in child psychology to develop separate questionnaires and methodologies for respondents aged 10 to 12 and 13 to 15. For respondents who are minors, the contractor should develop a methodology that details procedures for sampling this age group and for obtaining parents' and guardians' express consent in line with ethical guidelines and Ukrainian legislation.
   (d) training supervisors and interviewers.
   (e) arranging and supervising all aspects of fieldwork, including back-checks.
   (f) processing the survey data, including data cleaning, and encoding survey responses.
   (g) ascertaining the representativeness of the sample and weighing the data, if necessary.
   (h) Statistical analysis of findings and writing a 3–5-page analytic report to place the findings within the local political and other context.

From project design to execution, the bidder must comply with any laws governing human subjects research that apply to polling of youth and children in Ukraine, including data privacy laws.
(2) Questionnaire. IRI will provide three draft questionnaires, one for individuals aged 16-35, another questionnaire for children aged 10-12 and another for children aged 13-15. The bidder will provide input, such as a need for rephrasing certain terms for local contexts and engage an expert in child psychology to ensure that the questionnaire is appropriate to the cognitive development stages of the 10-12 and 13-15 age groups, and that the questionnaire is fully in compliance with “do not harm” principles, in particular regarding the avoidance of emotional harm caused by reliving previously experienced trauma related to the war and/or displacement. Additionally, IRI will submit the questionnaire for formal external reviews conducted by an Institutional Review Board (IRB), and the bidder may need to incorporate recommendation from the IRB.

IRI requests translation into Russian and Ukrainian. Translations will be reviewed and approved by IRI.

The estimated average interview duration is 15 minutes for ages 10-15 and 20 minutes for ages 16-35. The questionnaires will be roughly 30% similar, with additional questions being asked of the older age groups.

(3) Sample Design. IRI requires a national sample of 2,400 individuals. The sample will be made up of a national sample of 1,400 youth aged 16-35, a national sample of 500 children aged 10-12 and a national sample of 500 children aged 13-15. These samples must be representative of the population of the survey universe. IRI will not ask the bidder to survey in areas not under full Ukrainian government control or in areas on the front lines of the war. The survey will only take place where Ukrainian cell service is provided. Any other planned exclusions of the population of the survey universe (e.g. geographic, linguistic, lacking accessing to a phone etc.) must be discussed during quotation stage.

The sample shall be drawn using recognized probability methods, all the way down to the selection of the individual respondent. In the event that any departure from probability sampling methods is recommended by the bidder for all or any part of the survey, the sampling methodologies to be employed shall be described in detail and a rationale for their use shall be provided. Given the current security situation, IRI is open to considering other telephone sampling methods, including a panel or using a previously-conducted bank of telephone numbers, but any proposed methodology must be described in detail and explain how it will achieve the desired sample.

IRI’s preferred approach to CATI is sampling list-based, provided that recent sampling frame data exists in form of listings of all phone numbers (landline and mobile, incl. of all major mobile phone service providers.) Alternatively, IRI accepts an RDD approach, ideally with some stratification, e.g. by area code.

A detailed sampling methodology shall be submitted to the IRI prior to fieldwork, including a description of the survey coverage, allocation of the sample, description of the sampling frame, description of any stratification criteria to be used, description of the stages of selection and the selection methods to be used at each stage, the method to be used for selection of the respondent in case of shared phone numbers, and call-back rules to be employed. It is assumed that the sample will be distributed in proportion to the population of each region or other geographic unit to be surveyed; in the event that the bidder wishes to propose a sample design departing from this principle the proposal should describe the allocation to be used and the reasons for doing so. Stratification by region (and/or subsequent weighting by region) will be based on the oblast where the respondent resided prior to February 24, 2022

(4) Pre-test. The questionnaires shall be pre-tested by the bidder prior to the commencement of any fieldwork. No less than 40 pre-test interviews shall be conducted and in surveys with translations into multiple languages, no less than 10 interviews per language. Additionally, no less than 10 interviews each for following age groups 10-12, 13-15, and 20 interviews for the 16-35 age group. IRI is open to discussing alternative proposals based on the recommendations of the bidder. The bidder shall provide IRI with a written report of the results of the pre-test, along with details of any problems encountered and suggested remedies, prior to the commencement of any fieldwork.

(5) Fieldwork. The data collection firm must ensure the ethical collection of data to ensure that research subjects are not harmed as a result of their participation in this research study. The data collection firm must also share previous experience conducting surveys of children and youth aged 10-15 in the last five years. The child psychology expert engaged by the data collection firm must also fully review the fieldwork protocol with an emphasis on “do no harm” principles. The data collection firm will obtain and record the explicit consent of the parent or responsible adult when collecting personal data from children or anyone for whom a legal guardian has been appointed. The data collection strategy should incorporate best practices outlined in ICC/ESOMAR International Code on Market, Opinion and Social Research and Data Analytics as well as other associations or academic institutions specializing in public opinion research with children and adolescents.

Interviews shall be conducted by experienced field workers who shall be thoroughly briefed by the bidder prior to commencement of any fieldwork. Remote training via video-conference is acceptable. The bidder shall ensure that interviewers are thoroughly familiar with household and respondent selection procedures, call back procedures (at least 3 attempts before substituting a selected respondent), and the structure of the questionnaire, including routing and filtering. Interviewer training shall include practice sessions in administering the questionnaire. All interviewers must have at least completed secondary education and must be fully fluent (reading and speaking) in the language(s) in which they are to administer the interviews. No interviewer shall conduct more than 10% of the total interviews, but a 5% upper limit would be preferable. A minimum of 10% of interviews shall be back checked or live listen in by a team supervisor.

Interviewer training must also include specific training on how to protect the minor subjects who will be participating in this poll.

Household and respondent selection must be tracked on a contact tracking sheet or similar—this will be needed to calculate the response rate. Informed consent (oral is acceptable unless country laws require written) must be sought prior to commencing the interview. IRI requires that surveys with children and youth only be conducted with the express written consent of the parent or guardian. IRI will provide draft informed consent language to the bidder and this template may be updated by the bidder to conform with the country’s legal requirements.
The bidder will disclose the anticipated response rate during the quotation process. Should this anticipated response rate be less than 50%, the bidder will list in the proposal additional steps that will be taken to boost response rate, e.g. additional call-backs, opening the call-center during additional hours, etc.

(6) Data Processing. The bidder shall be responsible for data entry, cleaning, and processing, including development and implementation of a coding scheme for all open-ended questions. The bidder shall supply data to IRI as a clean, fully labeled in English SPSS "*.sav" file with a complete data dictionary of variable names and value labels. There will be three datasets: one for the questionnaire administered to 10-12 year old respondents, one for the questionnaire administered to 13-15 year old respondents, and one for the questionnaire administered to 16-35 year old respondents nationally. There shall be one data record for each respondent and records shall be of fixed length. For the 16-35 year old dataset, the bidder shall be responsible for deriving and applying any post-stratification weights required to bring the sample into conformity with the demographic profile of the population at the very least for gender and age groups, as well as any additional weighting factors required to correct for disproportionate allocation, if use. Ideally, IRI would want education groups included in weights, and if available demographic data allows it, those without formal education will be assigned a separate code from those with at least some primary education. If demographic weights were to fall below 0.3 or above 3.0, this must be discussed in writing with IRI before the weight is applied. IRI has strict upper limits on post-weighting and requires unweighted samples already generally matching the population’s rough gender and age distribution. For example, an unweighted sample of 65% male and 35% female would not be accepted, even if corrected with post-weights, unless the potential for this skew is already disclosed in the proposal. For the 10-12 and 13-15 year old datasets, the expert will propose a weighting scheme or will provide an explanation for why weighting is not advisable—this may depend on the sampling methodology proposed by the expert.

Each record shall include a unique respondent ID number, interviewer ID number, interview duration, landline versus mobile phone, interview start and end times, date of interview, any geographic units as per the sample design, and interview language if there is more than one. All date and time variables should be in an SPSS-compatible DateTime format. IRI prefers the duration variable to be a net duration that filters out any time spent outside of the interview if it was interrupted after it began. If possible, a variable should also be included that indicates whether each interview was interrupted or rescheduled after it was started. Each record shall include demographic information about the respondent, including: gender, exact age, and education level.

(7) Technical Report. When delivering data, the bidder shall provide a Technical Report which shall include the following:

(a) A complete sampling methodology
(b) Details of response rates, including tabulation of unsuccessful interview attempts, with reasons for non-response (i.e. respondent refusal, proxy refusal, inability to locate selected respondent, etc.).
(c) A brief report on survey operations including any practical difficulties encountered in carrying out the survey;
(d) Estimated sampling error;
(e) A complete explanation of the weighting scheme including details of how weighting factors were developed and applied, as well as the demographic data on which weights were based (i.e., age, gender, and education distributions in the population);

(f) any abnormalities encountered during data QC, including but not limited to: suspicious patterns by interviewer ID (e.g. unusually fast completion rates), potential contradictions (e.g. respondents who rate a certain politician as highly untrustworthy yet definitely plan on voting for this person), significant data changes of indicators since the previous poll etc.

(8) Analytical Report. The bidder will provide an analytical report of 3-5 pages highlighting key findings from the data and placing these findings within the local context. Mere description of data is not sufficient; the report must contain analysis.

(9) PowerPoint Presentation. The bidder will provide a presentation with a chart for every survey question. A template (already completed with historic data for trend charts if applicable) will be provided by IRI.

(10) Summary of deliverables. The Deliverables to be provided to IRI by the bidder are as follows:

- (a) Sampling Plan/ Methodology
- (b) Pretest report.
- (c) Copies of the final questionnaires, as fielded, in English and translations.
- (d) A complete data set formatted as SPSS file, one for 10–12-year-olds, one for 13–15-year-olds, and one for 16–35-year-olds.

- (g) PowerPoint Presentation

(11) Delivery Schedule. Evaluation and Award Process

1. IRI may contact any Bidder for clarification or additional information, but Bidders are advised that IRI intends to evaluate the offers based on the written proposals, without discussions, and reserves the right to make decisions based solely on the information provided with the initial proposals. IRI may but is not obligated to conduct additional negotiations with the most highly rated Bidders prior to award of a contract and may at its sole discretion elect to issue contracts to one or more Bidders.

2. Mathematical errors will be corrected in the following manner: If a discrepancy exists between the total price proposed and the total price resulting from multiplying the unit price by the corresponding amounts, then the unit price will prevail and the total price will be corrected. If there is a discrepancy between the numbers written out in words and the amounts in numbers, then the amount expressed in words will prevail. If the Bidder does not accept the correction, the offer will be rejected.

3. IRI may determine that a proposal is unacceptable if the prices proposed are materially unbalanced between line items or sub-line items. Unbalanced pricing exists when, despite an acceptable total evaluated price, the price of one or more contract line items is significantly overstated or understated as indicated by the application of cost or price analysis techniques. A proposal may be rejected if IRI determines that the lack of balance poses an unacceptable risk.

4. IRI will conduct a source selection based as follows:

   - Experience conducting CATI polling in Ukraine - 15 Percent.
   - Experience conducting research with children and youth - 15 Percent.

   c) Price – 20 percent

IRI intends to evaluate Bidders’ proposals in accordance with these factors and make an award to the responsible Bidder whose proposal is most advantageous to the program.
5. If a cost realism analysis is performed, cost realism may be considered in evaluating performance or price.
