Background

The International Republican Institute (IRI) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, organization dedicated to advancing freedom and democracy worldwide. Since 1983, IRI has worked to develop democratic institutions and ideals, carrying out a variety of international programs to promote freedom, self-government and the rule of law worldwide. IRI provides technical assistance in the areas of political party strengthening, developing civic institutions and open elections, promoting democratic governance and advancing the rule of law.

IRI will use group discussions to understand the public's perception of political developments and citizen concerns. This information will be presented to prominent and influential leaders throughout the region as well as relevant government institutions and organizations.

Period of Performance

Date of signature – April 1, 2025. Renewable for up to an additional 36 months in up to four 12-month intervals.

Options are required in this circumstance because the exact number of discussions and other details (such as specific towns, demographics, and topics) will be determined by program circumstances. The political context is too dynamic, and the options memo is required to respond to changes in context. (see options memo)

Scope of Work

OBJECTIVES OF THE RESEARCH

Public opinion research shall be obtained through a series of group discussions conducted in municipalities across Serbia (likely 5-10 municipalities) that is designed to obtain the most accurate possible information about public perceptions of various topics.

RESEARCH TASKS

(1) General Responsibilities and Deliverables of Bidder. IRI plans to conduct group discussions to gauge public perceptions of political developments and national concerns.

The bidder shall be responsible for conducting a number of group discussions, each lasting approximately 90 – 120 minutes and attended by 5 – 10 participants. Topics of discussion and locations of group discussions will be determined by IRI on an as-needed basis.

IRI will accept bids for in-person and/or virtual/online discussion groups. The bidder will specify whether they are offering in-person discussion groups, virtual/online discussion groups, or both. If the bidder is offering both types of discussion group, the bidder should specify how their logistics and operations differ between in-person and online groups.

All participants should satisfy the following requirements:

- Participants should match demographically the targeted characteristics specified by IRI.
- Participants in the same group discussion session may not know one another.
- No participants may have participated in a focus group or similar group discussion in the past 12 months.

Bidder will be responsible for managing all logistical aspects of the project above and should engage local support staff as necessary to complete the following:

- Screener. IRI will provide a draft screening questionnaire prior to proposed research. The Bidder will review and offer edits within three working days of receipt. Following IRI approval, the Bidder will translate the screener into Serbian. IRI reserves the right to review the translation prior to recruitment launch.
- Recruiting participants. Bidder will recruit all participants according to the screening criteria listed above. Before participants are confirmed and at IRI's request, the Bidder will share with IRI the screening forms in order to ensure the proposed groups meet specified demographic targets. Bidder should recruit 5-10 participants for each group as well as 2-3 alternates in case any of the original participants are unable to participate. All participants will be required to give written informed consent to participate in this study. IRI will provide draft informed consent language which may be adjusted by the Bidder in order to conform to any specific legal requirements in the research country.

- Discussion guide. IRI will provide a draft discussion guide before the proposed research. Bidder will be welcome to offer suggestions for improvement and is expected to format and translate the discussion guide into Serbian. IRI reserves the right to review the translation(s.)
- Group discussion moderator. Bidder will provide a trained and experienced moderator for groups in each city. The moderators should familiarize him/herself with the topic of discussion prior to the groups. The moderator may be required to participate in a training of up to 4 hours with IRI staff.
- Observation. The bidder will provide a way for IRI staff to directly or indirectly observe the discussion group.

Bidders should specify whether they offer discounts for larger orders—e.g. if an order of two (2), four (4), or eight (8) group discussions would result in different per-unit costs, the bidder is encouraged to list these separately.

The bidder should specify whether they are offering in-person discussion groups, virtual/online discussion groups, or both. If the bidder is offering both in-person and virtual discussion groups, they should specify whether they have the same price. If the price of an in-person and a virtual discussion group differs, the bidder should specify prices for each.

Evaluation and Award Process

1. IRI may contact any Bidder for clarification or additional information, but Bidders are advised that IRI intends to evaluate the offers based on the written proposals, without discussions, and reserves the right to make decisions based solely on the information provided with the initial proposals. IRI may but is not obligated to conduct additional negotiations with the most highly rated Bidders prior to award of a contract, and may at its sole discretion elect to issue contracts to one or more Bidders.
2. Mathematical errors will be corrected in the following manner: If a discrepancy exists between the total price proposed and the total price resulting from multiplying the unit price by the corresponding amounts, then the unit price will prevail and the total price will be corrected. If there is a discrepancy between the numbers written out in words and the amounts in numbers, then the amount expressed in words will prevail. If the Bidder does not accept the correction, the offer will be rejected.
3. IRI may determine that a proposal is unacceptable if the prices proposed are materially unbalanced between line items or sub-line items. Unbalanced pricing exists when, despite an acceptable total evaluated price, the price of one or more contract line items is significantly overstated or understated as indicated by the application of cost or price analysis techniques. A proposal may be rejected if IRI determines that the lack of balance poses an unacceptable risk.
4. IRI will conduct a source selection based as follows:
 - IRI intends to make an award to the responsible Bidder based on the following evaluation factors:
 - a) Technical evaluation, (including technical capabilities, proposed technical approach, and personnel qualifications) – 30 percent
Proposed approach
 - b) Experience with similar projects-40 Percent

Experience/ability to lead group discussions that adhere to international standards and best practices for qualitative research projects – 20 percent

Prior experience conducting qualitative work in Serbia-20 Percent

c) Price – 30 percent

IRI intends to evaluate Bidders' proposals in accordance with these factors and make an award to the responsible Bidder whose proposal is most advantageous to the program.

5. If a cost realism analysis is performed, cost realism may be considered in evaluating performance or price.
