Background
The International Republican Institute (IRI) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, organization dedicated to advancing freedom and democracy worldwide. Since 1983, IRI has worked to develop democratic institutions and ideals, carrying out a variety of international programs to promote freedom, self-government and the rule of law worldwide. IRI provides technical assistance in the areas of political party strengthening, developing civic institutions and open elections, promoting democratic governance and advancing the rule of law.

IRI's Georgia program has been supporting political actors and parties for the last 25 years through a range of interventions, which include platform messaging and policy; public outreach and citizen engagement; public opinion research; regional infrastructure development; and support for under-represented groups in decision-making. These focus group discussions will provide a strong foundation upon which IRI can support political parties to formulate coalitions among opposition and undecided voters and develop citizen-responsive messaging in the run-up to the 2024 Parliamentary Elections.

Period of Performance
June 2024 - October 2024

Statement of Work

QUALITATIVE RESEARCH IN Georgia
Focus Groups on Public Opinion in Advance of Georgian Parliamentary Elections

OBJECTIVES OF THE RESEARCH
IRI needs to:
1. Understand how Georgians view current events and the country’s path forward;
2. Understand how voters in Georgia perceive current issues in advance of Georgian Parliamentary elections

METHODOLOGY
The questions above are best addressed by a focus group study. Up to two rounds of FGDs will take place during the period of performance. For each round, up to thirty groups should be held across up to 5 cities in Georgia, with up to 6 FGDs per city. One city will be Tbilisi and the other cities will be across Georgia. The 6 groups in each location will be determined by demographic characteristics, most likely by age and political affiliation, so the Offeror must have the ability to identify members of diverse political groups and age ranges. IRI will also ask the Offeror to collect data on education and occupation to ensure an even balance within the groups. Each FGD should last approximately 90-120 minutes.

Additional requirements:
- Participants in the same focus group session may not know one another.
- No participants may have participated in a focus group study in the past 12 months.

GENERAL RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE OFFEROR
Offeror will be responsible for managing all logistical aspects of the project above. From project design to execution, the bidder must comply with any laws governing human subjects research that apply to focus group discussions in Georgia, including data privacy laws. The bidder should engage local support staff as necessary to complete the following:
- Screener. For each round, IRI will provide a draft screening questionnaire based on the specifications above. The Offeror will review and offer edits. Following IRI approval, the Offeror will translate the screener into Georgian. IRI reserves the right to review the translation prior to recruitment launch.
- Recruiting participants. Offeror will recruit all participants according to the screening criteria listed above. At least one week prior to the start of the first focus group session of each round, the Offeror will provide a brief description of the composition of the groups in terms of age, gender, occupation, etc. Offeror should recruit 8-10 participants for each in person group as well as 2-3 alternates in case any of the original participants are unable to participate. All participants will be required to give written informed consent to participate in this study. IRI will provide draft informed consent language which may be adjusted by the bidder in order to conform to any specific legal requirements in the research country.
- Discussion guide. For each round, IRI will provide the draft discussion guide. Offeror will be welcome to offer suggestions for improvement and is expected to format and translate the discussion guide into Georgian. IRI reserves the right to review the translation(s). Once IRI has reviewed the translation(s), some modification of the discussion guide may be required.
- Focus group moderator(s). Offeror will provide one or more trained and experienced moderator(s) who is/are fully fluent in the language of discussion. They should familiarize themselves with the topic of discussion prior to fieldwork.
- Observation. The Offeror will provide an opportunity for IRI staff to observe the focus group discussions.
- Recording of focus group discussions. Audio and/or video record all aspects of research necessary for full and accurate data collection, transcript generation and inclusion of illustrative samples in the final analytical report. Offeror will film focus groups and film should be high quality with clear sound. If participants do not consent to videotaping, audio recordings are acceptable.

- Transcripts. The Offeror will provide IRI with full verbatim transcripts in Georgian of each group that will identify each participant speaker by number or first name to link each comment to the participant’s gender, exact age, education level, city and occupation.

- Written analytical reports. For each round, Offeror will analyze all discussions, and write and edit five final analytic reports (one report for each city) for review, editing and acceptance by IRI. IRI will provide a report template. The reports are expected to synthesize findings across all participants and all discussion sessions within each city, while noting any major differences of opinions between participants and sessions. The reports must present actual analysis (i.e. not mere description) and illustrative quotes from participants. Each report must have two versions - one in idiomatic English and one in idiomatic Georgian. They must include a one or two page executive summary, addressing the research needs outlined above. The length of each report is approximately 10-15 pages.

DELIVERABLES for each round:

- Finalized discussion guide (incl translation where applicable)
- Finalized recruitment screener (including translation where applicable)
- Proposed Participant Profile
- Video/Audio recordings of the discussions, with clear audio. Recording should be delivered to IRI electronically (for example via a file transfer service) or delivered to the local IRI office.
- Full transcripts of all discussions, as described above.
- Analytic reports in MS Word. One report for each city; Georgian version and English version for each.

TIMING

The first round of focus group discussions should be held as soon as possible; the exact timing needs to be determined in close consultation with IRI. IRI's preferred project timeline is as follows:

Evaluation and Award Process

1. IRI may contact any Bidder for clarification or additional information, but Bidders are advised that IRI intends to evaluate the offers based on the written proposals, without discussions, and reserves the right to make decisions based solely on the information provided with the initial proposals. IRI may but is not obligated to conduct additional negotiations with the most highly rated Bidders prior to award of a contract, and may at its sole discretion elect to issue contracts to one or more Bidders.

2. Mathematical errors will be corrected in the following manner: If a discrepancy exists between the total price proposed and the total price resulting from multiplying the unit price by the corresponding amounts, then the unit price will prevail and the total price will be corrected. If there is a discrepancy between the numbers written out in words and the amounts in numbers, then the amount expressed in words will prevail. If the Bidder does not accept the correction, the offer will be rejected.

3. IRI may determine that a proposal is unacceptable if the prices proposed are materially unbalanced between line items or sub-line items. Unbalanced pricing exists when, despite an acceptable total evaluated price, the price of one or more contract line items is significantly overstated or understated as indicated by the application of cost or price analysis techniques. A proposal may be rejected if IRI determines that the lack of balance poses an unacceptable risk.

4. IRI will conduct a source selection based as follows:
IRI intends to make an award to the responsible Bidder based on the following evaluation factors:

- a) Technical evaluation, (including technical capabilities, proposed technical approach, and personnel qualifications) – 40 percent.
  - Recruitment plan – 10 percent
  - Capacity to perform scope of work – 20 percent
  - Analysis plan – 10 percent
- b) Experience in performing similar projects – 30 percent
  - Experience conducting face to face FGDs in Georgia – 30 percent
- c) Price – 30 percent

IRI intends to evaluate Bidders’ proposals in accordance with these factors and make an award to the responsible Bidder whose proposal is most advantageous to the program.

5. If a cost realism analysis is performed, cost realism may be considered in evaluating performance or price.
